

DONATIONS DEVELOPMENT REPORT

By Cheryl Deaton

I was very pleased at the articles placed in IRISES regarding the opportunities to donate to AIS. I think a reminder should be placed in the next issue about “Spring” cleaning and downsizing our collections of iris related magazines, newsletters, and decorative items. Catalogs would be another suggestion considering the ongoing project to download older catalogs to the WIKI.

I found out the names of the grocery stores/supermarkets in the Kroger chain that have the non-profit program. They are:

Bakers Supermarket	City Market
Dillons	Frys
Gerbes	Harris Teeter
Jay C	Tom Thumb Food Stores
King Soopers	Owens
Pay Less Super Markets	QFC
Ralphs	Scott’s
Smith’s	Turkey Hill Minit Markets
Loaf N Jug	Food 4 Less
Foods Co	Ruler Foods

It’s easy to sign up online and then just use your membership each time you shop. The non-profit gets a percentage of the money you spend each quarter, which can add up, and it takes little effort on the part of the shopper.

I will be looking into grants within the next few months.
Hopefully we can find some that will help fund the programs
we are working on.
