We went to press in March for the 2017 calendar and John Ludi can report on how many calendars are left for sale.

The pre-order sale offer was a great success and think it should be continued but shall leave that decision up to John Ludi as well.

Board Discussion:

The Board ruled in 2014 in order to save monies I hold off from working on the Calendar in November. Instead print it in March the following year.

However, this has created a problem as the Spring Convention Board meeting is not until May. How shall John Ludi and I get the approval for the 2018 calendar to be printed in March and the quantity, since we cannot obtain a quote from Sundance Press at this time?

Respectfully submitted,
